

CROWDS THROG FAIRLAWN PARK VIEWING STOCK

Annual Sunday Visitors
Surprised At Volume
Of Fair Displays

OPENING TUESDAY

Midway Will Feature
Old And New Shows
And Amusements

Thousands of Coshocton-co people visited the fair grounds Sunday afternoon for the purpose of viewing the stock display and looking over interesting sights at the grounds as a preliminary to the fair.

According to the Coshocton County Agricultural board there will be more displays at the fair this year than at any time in the history of fairs in this county. Already there are the biggest sheep, hog and cattle displays ever exhibited in the barns.

The entries to the races for the three days exceed everything in that line at previous Coshocton fairs.
Some of the fastest horses that travel from fair to fair will participate in the three-day racing card.

The night fair on Wednesday and Thursday will be far better than those of previous fairs. There will be a big display of fireworks on Wednesday and Thursday nights of the fair. The fireworks are guaranteed to be the best ever seen in Coshocton.

A dog and pony show, truck mules, high schooled horses, acrobats and other amusements will be a part of the night fair entertainment. Some of the rides and amusements on the fair grounds this year include the merry-
go-round, whip, swing, athletic show, over-the-falls and a number of other attractions, the names of which could not be listed.

The display halls, buildings and

Hornsby Is Season's Home Run Champion

ROGERS HORNSBY, the Cardinals second baseman, is the new home run king. Hornsby led all heavy hitters in both leagues and finished the season with 42 home runs. His nearest rival was Ken Williams, of the Browns, who finished with 29. Babe Ruth could only muster 35 homers for the season, finishing fourth. Tilly Walker, of the Athletics, with 37 was third. During the season the National League players knocked out 529 homers and the American League players 525, a total of 1,054.

Last year the National had 460
and the American 477, a total of

WEALTHY AMERICAN TOURISTS SQUANDER DOLLARS IN LONDON

Experts Estimate Pile
This Year At Half
Billion

TAXI MEN WAX FAT
Some Hotels Operating
On Money Spent By
Rich Americans

BY DAVID M. CHURCH.
LONDON, Oct. 2.—England is engaged in the pleasant pastime of counting American money that will never get back to America.
The tourist season is over, and it is estimated by some experts that there is close to a half billion dollars of American money left in England as the weary tourists trek their homeward way.
The past season has been one of the best in the history of England, despite the fact that there have been constant cries of indignation because the Americans were spending most of their time in France and Germany,
and despite protests that the tourists
of this season were not "spenders."

It is impossible to accurately judge the number of American tourists who have visited England this summer, but one authority estimates that between May and the end of September there were at least 5,000 American tourists in London every day. This number has fluctuated, and the estimate is a most conservative one. It

BUGGY AND AUTO COLLIDE; BOTH ARE BADLY DAMAGED

Failure of a horse drawn vehicle, driven by Ross Phillips to carry lights, was blamed Monday for a collision between it and an automobile driven by Howard Lawrence, which occurred at the intersection of Walnut and Seventh-sts at eight o'clock
Sunday evening.

The horse received a bad cut on one leg, the shafts were broken from the buggy, the windshield smashed out of the automobile, and the top and fenders of the automobile damaged.

Lawrence was driving west on Walnut-st, and, according to witnesses, the horse and buggy crashed into his car as he attempted to turn south on Seventh-st. Phillips is said to have been driving at a lively rate of speed, and his attempt to check the horse's speed was futile.

The horse plunged upon the top of the automobile, its feet crushing down the top of the car and smashing the windshield. Altho the Lawrence car was fully occupied, none of the occupants was injured.

Phillips took his horse to a veterinarian and Lawrence drove away. No settlement of damages was made.

Conley's Condition Is Serious Monday

No change for the better was noticed in the condition of John Conley,
an inmate at the County Infirmary,
who was seriously hurt Saturday night when he was struck by a passing automobile on the County Infirmary hill.

He received a broken left leg, a fractured thigh, a broken clavicle and two scalp wounds.

Conley is confined to the City hospital.

type of vehicle used in local transportation during the last hundred years got into the picture at the American Electric Railway Association convention, which opened on the Municipal Pier here today. The gathering, expected to draw 5,000 electric railway men from all parts of the United States, its insular possessions and Canada, opened with a parade of old-time conveyances, such as the prairie schooner, on Michigan avenue, today and will close with a discussion of the bus problem on Thursday.

Interspersed will be discussions by leaders in the electric railway world and national figures in public life of financing, public relations, engineering and salesmanship. A man on a

TWO FACE JUSTICE AND SPEND WEEK END IN CO. JAIL

George Ricketts and Harry Pennick, both of this city were confined to the county jail over the week-end.

Pennick is charged with abandonment of his child and non-support by his divorced wife. He was arraigned before Justice D. W. Bassett Saturday night. He was placed under bond, which he failed to furnish, was assessed $100 and given a sentence of 60 days in the workhouse.

Ricketts was arrested Saturday night by Constable Ira Seward on a charge of contempt of court and for resisting an officer. It is likely Ricketts will have to pay a fine of $25 and costs and serve 30 days in the Canton workhouse, according to the justice of the peace.

Some time ago Ricketts jumped a board bill of $13.25 at the home of Dewitt Kiker, west of Roscoe, where he boarded. He was arraigned before Justice Bassett on a charge filed by Mrs. Kiker and pleaded guilty. He told Justice Bassett that he would make arrangements to pay his fine
and costs, so the justice released him on his promise. Ricketts kept himself in the "clear" from that time until he was picked up by the constable Saturday, Bassett says.

be dismissed Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock for the remainder of the

Practically all of the rural schools will be dismissed Wednesday. Many of the schools located near Coshocton,
will be closed from Tuesday evening for the remainder of the week, it was said Monday. Schools more remote in the county will likely not be dismissed except on Wednesday, and some not at all.

About every school in the county,
with the exception of the Coshocton
public schools, will have school exhibits at the fair.

"Miss Betty" Ousted From Woman's Hotel; Paws For Bar Rail

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—The restless "barefoot" of "Miss Betty" Berg, known a la mode, landed him in the East 53rd-st. Station, where he is being held today on the charge of impersonating a woman.

"Betty" was getting along fine in a picture hat and clinging gown
when the manager of the Rutledge hotel, a hostelry for women only, observed that "her" foot seemed to be feeling for that ancient appur-tenance known in prehistoric days
as the bar rail, while conversing with the clerk. Detectives were called. "Betty" was indignant. Then
"she" broke down and confessed that her name was William Berg, and that "she" is a pastry cook. William did not explain the feminine attire.

Constantine Did Not Start War With Turkey, But Lost Throne Thru Defeat

The Turko-Greek war in the Near East which may be brot to an end as the result of the armistice conference scheduled for tomorrow, was begun in June, 1920, when Greece sent an expeditionary army into Anatolia.
(Asia Minor) and another to Thrace.

Constantine, the exiled Greek King, was not responsible for the Greek war against Turkey. He was not re-called to the Greek throne until December 1920, six months after military operations had been commenced. The Greeks occupied Constantinople and later Smyrna. Operations in Asia Minor were slower. By July 1921, the Greeks had occupied about half way from Smyrna, their headquarters to Angora, capital of the Turkish Nationals. In February 1922, the British, French and Italian foreign ministers met in Paris in an effort to arrange a Near East conference preliminary to revision of the treaty of Sevres. When these negotiations were pending the Greeks launched a new offensive which took them to the very gates of Angora. There they were halted. The Turks, having reformed their army, began a counter-offensive which rolled the Greeks clear back to the coast and by the middle of September, 1922, all the Greeks had been driven from Asia Minor.

MEN WHO BATTLED IN INJUNCTION SUIT

Federal Judge Winkerson, in Chicago, has granted what is called the most sweeping injunction ever signed in the plea of the Government to restrain the striking railroad shopmen. Attorney General Daugherty, with his assistants, shown in the top row, fought for the injunction, while the attorneys in the lower row represented labor's interests.

HOSTILE MOVES IN THRACE ARE HELD IN CHECK

Armistice Parley To Be Held Tuesday At Mu-

PEACE PROBABLE

Danger Of Near East
War Is Not Averted
Definitely

LONDON, Oct. 2.—While the Near East situation has cleared as the result of arrangements for an armistice conference between the British and Turks at Mudania tomorrow, British officials declared today that danger of war in Asia Minor is not yet completely past.

Great Britain, it was stated, will not assist in putting down any Greek uprisings in Thrace unless the Turks leave the neutral zone along the Turkish straits. Shipment of British reinforcements and munitions to the Dardanelles will not cease until the neutral zone is clear of Turkish soldiers.

General Sir Charles Harrington,
British commander in chief at Constantinople, will represent the British in the armistice conference. France and Italy will be represented as well as the Turkish Nationalists. Arrangements for occupation of Eastern Thrace by the Turks, neutrality of the straits and demilitarization of Constantinople will be discussed. Constantinople reports that the national assembly at Angora is completing the Turkish reply to the allied peace
note of September 23 and that it probably will be handed to the allied high commissioners in Constantinople on Tuesday.

All danger of a Turkish attack has been averted for the time being and there is a feeling of optimism in many quarters that the armistice negotiations will be quickly followed by arrangements for a peace conference, probably at Venice. Pending the armistice decisions Kemal has

SOCIAL CIRCLE TO CONDUCT TAG SALE DURING THE FAIR

A three-day tag sale for the benefit of the City Hospital will be conducted Thursday, Friday and Saturday of fair week by the women of the Social Circle of the Presbyterian church. It was announced Monday, following a meeting of that organization at the home of Mrs. William Lynde, south Fourth-st. Saturday evening.

Proceeds from the sale will be used to buy new linen for the hospital.
There is said to be a real need for linen articles at the hospital and the women have volunteered to supply
the need.

It is planned to sell the tags on the fairgrounds Thursday and Friday and on the main streets of the city on Saturday.

In explaining why the city hospital,
which is ordinarily considered a self-sustaining institution and not an object of charity, was chosen as beneficiary of the drive, Mrs. C. D. Brooke, president of the Social circle, gave the following information Saturday evening:

Members of the Social Circle meet
one day every month at the Presbyterian church and sew. Heretofore they have made articles needed by the poor of the city, and turned their product over to Mrs. A. F. Wolfe, of the Associated Charity association for proper distribution. The church always provided the money with which to buy the materials.

This year the Social Circle's share of the church funds was too small to pay for the usual work, and the women were obliged to look for another way to make use of their monthly sewing day.

They learned of the need for linen
at the city hospital, and believing that the citizens of Coshocton would be willing to pay for the unfashioned cloth, they volunteered to make a drive for the money and to perform the necessary sewing operations. City officials approved of the plan, and final decision to hold the sale was made at the meeting of the organization Saturday evening.

The Kivans club as a whole has pledged $20 for the tags, and the individual members have agreed to buy tags.

The Story of An Automobile

Here's an intimate story of automobile building that will appeal to everyone who has ever ridden in a motor car.

—It's even more interesting than an actual trip through an automobile factory because the camera pictures details which would escape the eye. It abounds in human interest, with many thrills and in many cases real excitement.

—You see the various parts transformed from the red-hot metal to the finished unit. You follow the final assembly line in operation with units added in logical order, each unit being traced throughout its manufacture before the next is applied.

—This film was produced under the direction of the United States Department of Commerce in co-operation with the Studebaker Corporation and will be shown in all parts of the world. It is an education in manufacturing efficiency.

At the instance of her hostess, an ardent lover of nature, the Woman stepped out of doors one crisp evening to enjoy the full beauty of the clear sky of midnight blue, where, amidst thousands of twinkling stars, the silvery crescent majestically sailed.

Miss Tiny Toddler, in the person of Ruth Marie, aged four, trotted along too, leath to miss any unusual spectacle.

Ruth Marie has implicit confidence in her indulgent daddy, and when anything goes wrong always consoles herself with the assurance "Daddy fix it."

As the Woman and her hostess exclaimed upon the beauty of the moonlit world about them, little Ruth Marie broke in upon them with "What's that?" pointing to the crescent.

"That is the moon, dear," replied the Woman. Head on one side, Ruth Marie said earnestly, "Moon broke. Daddy fix it!"—Exchange.

Copper welds iron.

It has been recently discovered that iron may be very firmly and conveniently welded by making use of copper.

If a piece of copper on an iron plate be heated in an atmosphere of hydrogen, the copper will spread over the iron in a thin penetrating film. Thus, if the copper be melted between two pieces of iron, it welds them together, the copper film actually working itself in between the crystals of the iron.

Unfair Business
Methods Charged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—The federal trade commission today issued a complaint against the Cutler-Hammer Manufacturing company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin, manufacturers of electric controllers, charging "unfair methods of competition by discriminating in the sale of their product, regardless of any difference in the selling costs and not for the purpose of meeting competition."

The commission charged the company with dividing its customers into three classes, granting different accounts accordingly.

Sailors' Superstitions.
Time was when sailors would not think of sailing without a charm or pocketpiece of some kind to ward off bad luck. Wind heads were a favorite and in nearly every port were maidens to sell them. Tattoos were considered essential for bon voyage, especially the butterfly on the shoulder predominated for good luck. A pig tattooed on the foot was assurance the man would never drown. Sailors used to say not a man is known to have drowned if he possessed this significant charm against fate.

Early Day Farm Implement.
The flail was a hand implement used in early days on the farm to thresh grain. It consisted of a short, thick club attached by a leather thong to a long wooden handle, in such a way that it could swing easily. The threshing machine has replaced this primitive implement in all advanced countries, although the flail is still used to some extent in parts of Asia and Africa. In the Middle Ages the flail, made much stronger and furnished with iron spikes, was employed as a weapon of warfare. It was one of the earliest of the world's weapons to be retained in the hand during combat.

Sure to Be Found Out.
The man who dresses himself up in borrowed garments to appear richer and better than he really is, is certain to be discovered. Far better to light and carry his own little candle and strive vigorously to connect with the electric wires of experience and knowledge.

Her First Love Affair.
I experienced my first love affair when I was thirteen. I had a bicycle, on which I went for a ride with a neighbor boy, and he took quite a liking to me. So he called on me the next Sunday evening. I saw him coming, and slipped behind the door, not wanting to see him. My mother told him I was out, but would be back after a while. He leaned up against the door I was behind and stood there waiting for me to come. I stood it as long as I could, then stepped out from behind the door, exhausted. He never called again.—Chicago Journal.

Light and Dark of Moon.
The dark of the moon is that part of the lunar month when the moon is not visible. It may be considered as covering a period of approximately four days, two days before and two days after the time of the new moon. The rest of the lunar month may be called the light of the moon. These are popular expressions and are not susceptible of precise definition.

Heavy Loss Caused by Fungi.
The annual loss caused by forest fires is enormous, but it is no greater than that attributable to fungi, which rot mine timbers, bridge timbers, telegraph poles and other structures of wood, necessitating their replacement. The "life" of the average railway tie is seven and a half years; if fungi would let it alone it would last twice that long.

They Weren't So Slow Then.
From the death notices of a New York paper, January 21, 1904: "In England, John Tucker, a soldier in Ashford barracks. He died at 4 o'clock in the morning; before 12 in the same day his widow was married to another man, and in the evening the happy couple followed the corpse of the first husband to the grave as chief mourners."

COMB SAGE TEA IN FADED OR GRAY HAIR

If Mixed With Sulphur it Darkens So Naturally Nobody Can Tell

Grandmother kept her hair beautifully darkened, glossy and attractive with a brew of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied, with wonderful effect. By asking at any drug store for "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you will get a large bottle of this old-time recipe, improved by the addition of other ingredients, all ready to use, at very little cost. This simple mixture can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound now because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied—it's so easy to use, too. You simply dampen a comb or soft brush and draw it through the hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears, after another or two, it is restored to its natural color, and looks glossy, soft and beautiful.

The Complexion Of The New Congress

CONSIDERABLE speculation has been indulged in this fall as to the attitude of the next house and senate on federal enforcement of the prohibition laws. Until the result of the November election is known it will be impossible to tell accurately how congress will stand on the wet and dry issue.

The wets make no claims which is prima facie evidence that they do not hope for much greater influence with the incoming congress than they have had with the present one. The dries, on the other hand, while not claiming that they will have as high a percentage of votes favorable to their cause in the next congress as they have now, say that whatever slump there may be will have no appreciable effect in either branch.

The American Issue. Anti-Saloon organ, says that the primary results in the two old parties afford no encouragement to the wets. Indeed, it claims that, based on nominations in 44 states, there is a net gain in the lower house for the dry forces. Continuing its pre-election speculation The Issue says:

"So far as Senatorial nominations are concerned, the devotees of beer and the return of the saloon fare no better. Out of thirty nominations already made, the dries have held their own. In fact the two nominations in Pennsylvania means a gain for the dries, as both nominees are said to be against any weakening of the Volstead law.

"Wets gained one candidate for Congress in Wisconsin and one in Illinois, but in other states dries have made gains to more than overcome these losses.

"According to figures compiled in Washington, up to this time 47 members of the present Congress have failed to secure nominations. Of those who have been named to succeed these 47 members, 31 are known dry and 10 are known to be pledged to vote to repeal the dry enforcement law. These figures may not have much significance except that they prove the anti-Prohibitionists are not making much headway in securing control of Congress.

"One of the hardest fought wet and dry battles will be pulled off in New Jersey where Senator Freylinghuysen is a candidate for re-election and has for his opponent Governor Edwards. Freylinghuysen is as dry as Edwards is wet and the fight will be directly on the Prohibition issue there.

"The wet and dry question also will be the dominant issue in the election of a Senator and members of Congress in New York State. Both sides are lining up there for a finished fight. A majority of the New York Congressmen are now wet and beer boosters expect to make some gains in that state. Tammany Hall is pledging all Democratic candidates for Congress in New York City to vote for beer, and that organization will probably deliver the vote.

"But should wets make a few gains in New York, Rhode Island, and one or two other Eastern states, these gains will be but a drop in the bucket, for their needs are so great that a half dozen members will do them little good, and it is doubtful if their total gains in the East will exceed that number, while in the South and West there is little chance for them to break thru the dry lines.

"The best showing wets have been able to make in the United States Senate is 22 votes out of a membership of 96. In the House the wets do not make a claim of more than 110 out of a membership of 325. So it will be seen that even if they win a few votes here and there, it will not mean much.

"The greatest danger to the dry cause so far as Congress is concerned would be if Ohio or Illinois should by a popular vote declare for 2.75 per cent beer. Such a victory for the wets in Ohio, for instance, which in recent years has been voting dry, would scare some timid Congressmen so that they might want to climb into a seat on the beer cart.

"But then Ohio does not intend to vote in favor of 2.75 per cent beer."

Miners' Wages

DISCUSSING the settlement of the recent coal strike, The New York Globe compiles interesting statistics relative to the wages paid in the anthracite fields of Pennsylvania and the bituminous mines in other states. In the mines covered by the agreement last year's wages prevail.

According to The Globe the wage issue "was the cause of the struggle. The operators held that the rates were too high and ought to be reduced. The anthracite miners, on the other hand, advocated an increase in pay. The issue is still being contested in some of those fields which have not made compacts with the United Mine Workers and, for this reason especially, the wages paid miners continue to be a matter of great public importance.

"The United States Bureau of Labor Statistics has just published a report on certain selected mines. On the basis of a two weeks' payroll of last winter an estimate of the average earnings possible has been made. No miner may actually have earned the precise sum specified, but if he worked every day during which employment was attainable he would have earned the amounts quoted. A wide variation is noted in the different coal fields. Here is the bureau's estimate:

State.	Days of Work	Average Possible Earnings.
Anthracite—
Pennsylvania	287.7	$1,893
Bituminous—
Alabama	223.0	941
Colorado	199.9	1,560
Illinois	184.3	1,705
Indiana	170.4	1,292
Kentucky	205.1	1,202
Ohio	155.0	1,417
Pennsylvania	196.9	1,196
Utah	177.0	1,342
Washington	188.4	1,688
West Virginia	193.3	1,301
Wyoming	126.2	2,211
Total bituminous	195.7	$1,356

"The days of work were given for the year which ended Oct. 31, 1921. For the calendar year of 1921 the average working period in the bituminous industry was only 169 days, according to the United States Geological Survey. It is apparent from these figures that the bituminous coal mining industry operates from a half to a third less than a continuous industry. The waste from unemployment is tremendous.

"The average earnings vary widely. The earnings per hour show what the miner gives for his income. The average pay of the contract miner in the anthracite field is approximately $1.09 if his time at the face of the coal is counted, or 99 cents if his entire time in the colliery is reckoned. Similarly, the laborers who work for the contract miners earn either 77 cents or 71 cents an hour according as one of the two methods of reckoning is chosen. The hand miner in Alabama is paid 54.8 cents or 48.5 cents an hour. The Wyoming miner is paid at the highest rate, $1.215 according to the operators' accounting, and $1.15 by the miners.

"Whether these wages are regarded as high or low depends upon the point of view. With only part time employment, however, the annual income is not excessive when the cost of living is remembered."

New York Day-By-Day

By O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—A page from the diary of a modern Samuel Pepys: Up betimes to do my stint. Walked through the town but found no acquaintances and so to call on Gene Buck, recovering from an operation, and then back to unpack my trunk and to read many letters.

My spirits chilled by thought of work which I have no zest for soever. All the town talks of the new play Don Marquis bath writ, the gayest comedy in years. With my wife, very spruce in new togs, to Pierre's for luncheon and had pancakes Suzette to which I was hospitable thrice.

In the afternoon to hear Lou Cody speak at a cinema and he was very amusing too. Afterward strolled about and found the town torn up more than usual and Bryant Park despoiled by subway excavations.

Blanche Ring and Charles Winniger came in the evening and with them to Delmonico's to food and later to dance and all very gay yet very few at the pleasure places. So home, very tired, and to bed.

Fifth Avenue has a new five o'clock parade hour innovation. Instead of the usual walking cane the young men are now carrying "rest sticks" which when opened at the handle provide a sort of bicycle seat upon which they may sit when they meet an acquaintance. When closed, the cane has an ordinary ring handle.

I also hear that the flappers are now calling their afternoon tea parties "petting picnics." One young debbie, according to a gossip weekly, is said to have sent out handsomely engraved invitations recently bidding her guests to a "petting picnic" at her Long Island home.

There is an engaging frankness in the remark of one of the younger crop of summer revue producers to his audiences nightly when he says: "Nowadays you must pay $150,000 for a production, then $5 more to buy whiskers to hide from bill collectors." He doesn't have to ask Dad. He knows.

In the same summer revue there is a group of dancing girls whose legs somehow suggest starving Poland. Yet they are so agile and graceful that they prove the outstanding feature of an otherwise colorless performance. New York theatrical managers, incidentally, appear to be whistling in the dark. They are talking of returning prosperity but prices have been materially reduced and good seats are procurable at all the cut rate agencies for the so-called best shows.

Begging as one of the fine arts has received a surprising impetus by the revelation that one of the avenue's legless beggars lives in a fine hotel suite, rides in a limousine and delivers into the night life of the town. The beggar in question has always been noticeable for his well-dressed appearance. I saw him today and on account of the first page publicity he has received it might be supposed that he would suffer in daily receipts. On the contrary a shower of change descended upon him as he propelled himself on his roller platform along the front of the public library. The fact that he is so hopelessly crippled has found a responsive chord among pedestrians and they do not care how well he is able to live. It is said that the professional beggars who feel that they are deserving are organizing to wage war on what they call the A. B's—the able bodied. They plan to notify the police about all those who prey upon the credulity of the public.

AMERICAN STEAMER GOES ASHORE; ALL PASSENGERS SAVED

LONDON, Oct. 2.—The American Steamship Quaker City is ashore today on the Aberdeenshire coast and it is feared she will be a total wreck. All the passengers and nearly all the crew were taken off. The captain and two members of the crew remained on board to attempt to salvage the vessel.

WEALTHY AMERICAN

is estimated that these tourists spent for hotel and living accommodations not less than a pound each, or practically $5 a day. This too, is a most conservative estimate, for while there were many tourists who secured lodgings for less than $2 a night, there were many more who took the most expensive suites available in the most expensive hostels in London—in fact, there are several of the larger establishments that have been practically kept in business by their rich American clientele.

Besides the money spent for actual living expenses, there has been a great deal more spent in purchases from the English stores and shops. Scarcely an American came over here who did not return home with a fairly sizable English wardrobe, and was heavily laden with gifts of all sorts.

The theatres and other places of amusement have garnered a great deal more American gold.

The taxicab drivers have waxed fat upon American fares and even fatter upon American tips.

SEMPER PARVUS TIME NOW

Servants of all classes can now afford to spend the winter on the Riviera, living on their tips from tourists. One famous character, "Fleet Street Charlie," who opens taxi-cab doors for tourist visitors to the famous "Cheshire Cheese," is reported to have made close to $20 a day in American tips. "Fleet Street Charlie" denies this, but his earnings have been huge.

The steamship companies have derived at least 30 per cent of their summer revenue from Americans of all classes, from the wealthy who paid as high as $7,000 for a single passage to the more conservative travelers who came over third class and saved money.

All of this money will remain in Great Britain. It should help to swell the coffers of the income tax man, and probably America will get some of it back when Britain pays her war debt, but whatever America gets back will be taken back by England next summer, just as soon as the "sucker season" opens again.

Now has come the winter of discontent for those who live on tips in London. The American has gone.

ago, Aurora & Elgin lines participated in the colorful pageant.

Assembled at Jackson Boulevard and Michigan avenue Monday, shortly before noon, they proceeded toward the pier, joined en route by a horse car of the vintage of 1879 and a modern high-speed electric car from the Chicago surface lines. President Robert I. Todd, of the association, received the pageant at the pier. The display will be on exhibition throughout the week.

William Meehan, rider of the high bicycle, promises to be the saddle-sore hero of the occasion. For a week he pedaled along over a distance of 210 miles at a mad pace of six miles an hour in order to reach the convention on time.

The convention this year is the largest since the war. One-sixth of the total mileage of the traction lines of the country either suspended service or went into bankruptcy during the war. As a result the shows were greatly curtailed. Now the industry is getting back on its feet and the exhibit this year will be the largest ever shown.

Delegates represent a property investment of some $6,000,000,000, with an annual gross income of $1,000,000,000. There are more than 700 lines in the country, with a mileage of about 42,000, which carry more than 15,000,000,000 persons annually.

On Big Scale.

The Yellowstone remains the largest of our national parks and contains the greatest variety of scenic wonders. Everything within its more than 2,000,000 acres is on a gigantic scale. Distances are great; canyons are of terrifying depth, mountains tower to monstrous heights. The geysers, the "paint pots," the hot springs, are of never ending interest to tourists.

Opera Stars Praise Tanlac Both Now Enjoy Fine Health

Mme. Rosina Agostini, soprano, and Sig. Giuseppe Agostini, tenor, noted opera stars, who declare their stomach troubles have been completely overcome since taking Tanlac.

"If ever a person felt like they had been made over I am that person, thanks to Tanlac," declared Mme. Rosina Agostini, noted leading soprano of the San Carlo Opera Co., residing at Hotel Grenoble, New York City.

"I suffered from a nervous rundown condition and got so I dreaded to face my audiences. But as soon as I started taking Tanlac I began to improve, and now I am perfectly normal."

The experience of Mme. Agostini's husband, Sig. Giuseppe Agostini, famous leading tenor of the same troupe, also shows the value of Tanlac as a tonic and stomach corrective. He said, "My stomach went bad on me and I soon got into pretty bad condition. I followed my wife's example and took Tanlac. It helped to fix me up in a short time, and now I always feel fit."

NOTE—The International Proprietaries Co., distributors of Tanlac, have on file in their offices at Atlanta, Georgia, over fifty thousand signed statements from representative men and women from every State in the Union and every Province in Canada. Many of these are from prominent people in this city and section and have been previously published in this paper.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.

LONDON, Oct. 2.—Wireless, in the not distant future, will make the thoughts of others as perceptible to our senses as speech, according to F. Lloyd, an English wireless expert.

America's First "Zoo."

Independence square in Philadelphia was the site of America's first zoological garden. It was there that Charles Wilson Peale, in 1774, transferred the museum which for a decade previous he had maintained in his home, Third and Lombard streets. The Philosophical society, at Sixth and Chestnut streets, gave him permission to use its building for his large collection of portraits of men of the Revolution. He started the zoological garden in the rear of the building. An eagle was among the living specimens. Above its cage was an inscription: "Feed me well and I will live a hundred years."

RENO, Oct. 2.—Every man his own broadcasting station and receiving set. That's what Fritz Kunz, an occultist, of Adyar, India, said would eventually come to pass, through the development of mankind's telepathic powers, in his lecture "Psychic Wireless," here.

The lecture, which predicted that direct brain-to-brain radio, now imperfectly known as mental telepathy, was delivered by wireless from a Reno broadcasting station to several thousand radio fans throughout the west.

The lecturer warned his hearers not to try to hasten the development of psychic powers, but to seek first "the spiritual development along the lines laid down by the great religious teachers."

Or Some Other Place!

When an elbow, vigorously used in debate, hits the edge of a plate of soup, the soup spatters. Also, the tablecloth suffers. It happened at Giesenheimer's Hungarian restaurant on the East side. Giesenheimer was mad. He strode to the offender's table. "Aint you ashamed of yourself? Aint you got no honor? Suppose you would do such a thing in the Ritz-Carlton or the Biltmore, what would they say to you?" "What would they say to me?" repeated the owner of the elbow. "They would say: 'If you want to do such a thing, go down to Giesenheimer's.'"—New York Times.

REGS DEFEAT WILMOT, 6-2

Visitors, However, Make Good Showing; To Play Again Next Sunday

Said to be one of the fastest games played at Red Sea this season, the Coshocton Regulars won from the Wilmot, Stark-co nine Sunday afternoon by a score of 6 to 2.

Samuel Payne was on the rubber for the Coshocton Regulars working in old time form. The fans were delighted with Payne's effectiveness against Wilmot.

Each team made a good showing. Another contest has been arranged between the two aggregations next Sunday. The fans requested that the local management give Wilmot another game on the strength of their showing yesterday.

Joe Houser, who was to have pitched for the Wilmot nine yesterday did not hurl. He was visiting his mother and it was impossible for Houser to work in yesterday's game. The Wilmot manager stated after the game that Houser would be here next Sunday and that Coshocton could look forward to a different story in Sunday's game.

Payne and McCormick formed the Regulars' battery.

Next Sunday winds up the Regulars' baseball season.

REDS TAKE SECOND PLACE BY DOUBLE DEFEAT OF PGH.

The fact that the Cincinnati Reds defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates both games in a doubleheader Sunday afternoon in the last two scheduled games of the season delighted the Coshocton admirers of the Reds.

The first game finished with Cincinnati on the long end of a 5 to 4 score. Luque and Couch pitched for the Reds in the initial contest, opposing Pitcher Cooper. The second game ended 5 to 1 in the Red's favor. Rixey pitched the second game, allowing the Pirates but 4 scattered hits. Glazner, Adams and Yellowe twirled for the Pirates in an effort to regain second position.

The Cincinnati club landed in second position with a percentage of .558, six points ahead of the Pirates with .552.

Cincinnati proved to be the best of all the teams from Ohio in the major and minor leagues. Toledo noted Columbus out of seventh place yesterday afternoon, when the Senators dropped both ends of a doubleheader to Kansas City. Cleveland Indians won over Detroit Sunday afternoon, but the Tigers were too far in the lead for the Indians to copy third position.

tax wasters and tax spenders had not been organized to give about 50 cents worth of service for every dollar of outlay nor did the assessors have to list all the little pigs and chickens to supply the demands of the tax octopus.

If the single tax advocates must have some unearned increment to satisfy their hunger for it why not turn their attention the other way. They can find more unearned increment among the ring and machine politicians the corporation lobbyists, the beneficiaries of special interests and the vast armies of profiteers in all the necessities of life in one day than they can find on all the farms of Ohio in a year.

Sport Chatter

The Cincinnati Reds, picked for seventh and eighth place by students of baseball form, came along with a last minute rush yesterday, beat the Pirates twice and finished in second place right on the wire. They overcame Cooper and a four run lead to win the first game, 5 to 4. In the second Rixey held the Pirates to four hits.

The Browns came home with a victory in the final game, beating the White Sox 2 to 1, and reducing the Yankees ultimate margin to one game. They won in spite of a triple play, engineered by Eddie Collins in the second innings. He caught Pat Collins liner, stepped on second, doubling Hurst and threw to Seely retiring McManus.

Completing the final week of the season in which they scored only five runs in five games, the Yanks lost a 4 to 1 decision to the Senators. Warmouth, a kid left hander, held the Yanks to five hits.

The Cardinals stepped into an eleventh hour tie with the Pirates for third place in the National League, by taking a fall out of the Cubs, 7 to 1. By getting three hits out of five times at bat, Hornsby lifted his season's mark to .401. He is the first national league player to bat above .400 in the last 23 years. Ed Delahanty being the last to do it.

After McNamara, former Fordham pitcher, had blanked the Giant regulars with two hits in the first game, the recruits came out for the second game and beat the Braves, 3 to 0.

The Indians pulled out a ninth inning victory over the Tigers in the final game of the year, 6 to 5.
Pat Behan, Philadelphia rookie, shut the Dodgers right out, 6 to 0, in the season's finale.

It is claimed for the bagpipes, by some admirers that it is among the oldest of musical instruments. Whether or not the oldest, it is certainly the loudest of all instruments. NELLIE TAKES FIRST GAME OF SERIES AT COOPERDALE SUN.

The Nellie baseball nine took the opening game of the three-game series from the Cooperdale outfit on the latter's diamond Sunday afternoon. The score was 3 to 0.

The game stood 3 to 0 in favor of the visitors up until the last of the sixth when the home team went into the lead by 4 to 3. Errors accompanied by bunched hits in the last of the sixth inning let the home team connect with four scores.

Lefty Hardesty pitched up until his teammates had gotten into the lead when he retired in favor of Russell Senter, who was sent to the mound to hold the visitors. Senter was wild in the beginning and Nellie came in with three runs in the first of the seventh. The best Cooperdale could do in their half of the seventh was to collect 2 scores. Senter was touched up for two more falls in the eighth. Cooperdale failed to have the punch in the last of the eighth and ninth so the game ended 5 to 6.

Willard Hagans pitched an excellent game for the Nellie boys, coping the opening game of the best two of three from the Coopers. Before the game friendly bets favored the Cooperdale nine, as the fans believed that Cooperdale had the strongest team and they were playing at home.

Odds were 3 to 1 Monday that Nellie would win the series. The Coopers journey to Nellie Sunday where the second game is to be played. Should the Coopers upset the odds and win Sunday's game, the third and deciding game of the series would be played on the diamond where the biggest gate receipts came in.

The batteries were, Nellie, Hagans and Kanuckie; Cooperdale, Hardesty, Senter and Gillen.

is made by some statisticians to bat an even .100 for the season, tying the major league mark held by Jesse Burkett, of having accomplished the feat in three seasons.

Other sources, however, have Cobb hitting under the .400 mark. The Georgian also tied Wagner's record of 300 or more for 7 seasons and .200 or more for 8 seasons.

ATTY. GEN. TO MEET SHOPCRAFT LEADERS TO DISCUSS ORDER

WASHINGTON, Oct. 2.—Attorney General Daugherty was expected to confer today, with Donald R. Richberg, attorney for the six federated shopcrafts in the recent federal injunction proceedings at Chicago, regarding plans of the shopmen to appeal from Judge Wilkerson's decision.

The conference is understood to have been arranged at the request of Judge Wilkerson to consider Richberg's request that Attorney General Daugherty declare the government's case against the shopmen of "general public interest" so that the defendants may be given an immediate appeal. Daugherty and Richberg also will consider requests of Judge Wilkerson that they agree for a final hearing at an early date and that they decide upon methods of introducing evidence with a view to shortening the trial.

WOMAN ATTEMPTS TO KILL OFFICER WHO ENTERED HER FLAT

CINCINNATI, Oct. 2.—Incensed at the intrusion of three policemen who entered her flat early Saturday morning on complaint that a couple was living there as man and wife, Mrs. Dora Milligan, 31, secured a pistol and fired point blank at one of them. The officer saved his life by ducking and then knocked the gun from the woman's hand.

She is held on suspicion while William Kneller, the man who was found in her flat, is charged with disorderly conduct.

SLUMP IN YANKS' BATTING REDUCES ODDS ON GIANTS

NEW YORK, Oct. 2.—How good do the Giant pitchers have to be to be able to stop a team that, under the whip, scores exactly five times and gets a matter of twenty-five hits in its last five games? The answer is just a little bit better than downright bad. The Yankees with their accustomed lack of good taste, have selected the few days preceding the world's series to fall into their worst batting slump of the year. In the five games in question, they failed to score at all against Uhle and Jack Quinn, three times in one inning against Ferguson and not at all during the remainder of the game against Pennock, and once against Rip Collins in Boston and Warmouth, a recruit, in Washington yesterday.

Uhle, Collins and the rest of them, barring Warmouth are recognized as first class pitchers, when right, but the odds are against them all being right at one and the same time. An acieptic hitting must have had something to do with it. Almost simultaneously McGraw has begun to get commendable pitching from Neff, Scott and McQuillan. He has worked them a few innings, here and there, and they have done well. Nothing exceptional of course, because three innings make a ball game no more than one swallow makes a high ball. The combination of fair pitching by the Giants and poor hitting by the Yankees has prompted many speculative gentlemen, who once chanced 7 to 5 on the Yanks, to run to cover. Bets are now being made around the lobby of the Commodore and at Doyle's at 6 to 5 and before game time Wednesday, even money very possibly will be the price.

promised not to attack (hanak or Constantinople and to order a suspension of Turkish activities in Thrace. Serious Greek disorders are reported from Eastern Thrace, where Greek troops supporting the revolutionary government at Athens are clamoring for war against the Turks to prevent their occupation of Thrace. There have been riots at Rodosto and Adrianople. Already the Turkish military commanders have begun to back down from their defiant attitude. The Turkish cavalry that occupied Eretnke, near the western end of the Dardanelles has been withdrawn from the neutral zone.

The British at Chanak have extended their zone of occupation without opposition from the Turks. The British now hold the entire Asiatic

According to a Helsingfors despatch, quoting a report from Helsingfors, the Moscow government has informed Ankara that Russia is ready to offer, "armed protection" to Turkey. It is reported that Russian troops are concentrating in the Caucasus and that General Kameneff, the Russian commander is in charge. The advance divisions have been moved into Batum. M. Karacheren, acting People's Commissar for Foreign Affairs in the Soviet government, has sent a note to the allies demanding revocation of the blockade of the Turkish straits. He declared that goods consigned to Russia from the United States and England has been held up because the British fleet has the Black sea bottled up.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 2.—The Greek commander in chief in Thrace today notified the allied high commanders that Greece is unable to respect the neutral zone in the Tchalia region, north of Constantinople, unless attacks upon Greeks by roving Turkish bands in that district are stopped.

It is probable that the proposal will be made at the armistice conference Tuesday that French troops occupy Thrace. One of the chief demands of the Turks is that they be allowed to take over Eastern Thrace before peace negotiations begin.

"Mutapha Kemal Pasha might consent to French occupation of Thrace but it would require 10,000 troops," Hamid Bey, envoy of the Turkish Nationalists told International News Service today. He added, however, that the Turks feared that by the time French troops had occupied Thrace the Greek troops would have devastated the region until it resembled a desert.

Withdrawal of the Turks from strategic positions in the neutral zone and arrangements for the armistice negotiations have eased the situation. Reports were received, however, that Turkish troops still were being massed near Ismid. It was assumed that the Turkish forces in this region were acting under orders issued to them before the armistice was arranged.

The Ankara government is embarrassed by lack of funds, owing to non-collection of taxes.

The girls and boys of the Pig club and the Pig Production club have so far contributed 53 hogs for the display. There are 174 girl entries in the Canning club. The club displays at the fair this year are the biggest in the history of club week.

Peculiar Reckoning.

When Harry de Windt visited the Siberian Ostiaks he found that they calculated quite long distances in terms of kettles, an almost identical custom at the other end of Asia. If a journey was five kettles long an explorer found they meant that it would take as long as it would to boil five kettles of cold water in succession.

The swordfish is good food for man, and man hunts this fish with a harpoon. Fishermen hunt him even though he is a strong and dangerous fighter. The slaughter of so many swordfish is disturbing the balance of nature, so 'tis said, and allowing the sharks to multiply without these restrictions which swordfish impose.

SEVERAL SUSPECTS HELD IN DOUBLE MURDER IN N. J.

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 2.—Of all persons under suspicion at one time or another in the double murder of Rev. Dr. Edward Wheeler Hall, wealthy rector of the fashionable Protestant Episcopal Church of St. John the Evangelist, and his beautiful choir leader, Mrs. James Mills, not one had been eliminated, Prosecuting Attorney Beekman, of Somerset-co declared today. Altho it has been 16 days since the two bodies were found beneath a stunted crab apple tree on the lonely Phillips farm 2 miles from this city, no arrest has yet been made. Prosecutor Beekman said that "five or six lines" of investigation were being followed by municipal and county detectives and the New Jersey state police. It was expected that the bottom of the well on the Phillips farm would be dragged this afternoon in hope of finding the gun or knife with which the victims were killed.

The body of Dr. Hall, which is in a vault in Brooklyn, N. Y., is to be exhumed for further examination of the wounds which caused his death but the authorities refused to divulge the date of this exhumation.
